Bailey Law Group Expands Washington, D.C. Headquarters

WASHINGTON, DC (July 23, 2008) – Bailey Law Group, PC has announced an expansion of its Washington, D.C. headquarters in order to accommodate growth in its practice.

The deal, which expands Bailey Law Group's leased space from 10,000 square feet to over 30,000 square feet, will allow the firm to maintain its headquarters at 1615 L Street, NW for the foreseeable future. The expanded space will be ready to occupy in January 2009.

"This has proven to be an excellent location for our practice, for our attorneys, for our staff, and for our clients" said Bailey Law Group Principal Kathy Bailey. "This lease will allow us to continue to provide the workspace our employees need to do the best possible job for our clients, and will accommodate our rapidly expanding practice."

Bailey Law Group recently expanded its practice beyond Washington, D.C. to include offices in Irvine, California and Louisville, Colorado.
